

My disability won't kill me, but misdiagnosis can.

Temper tantrum
Meningitis

Moody
Twisted bowel

Bad behaviour
Heart attack

Ear infection
Stroke

38% of deaths of people with intellectual disability are potentially avoidable.

There is another way. The NSW Government must fund a network of specialised intellectual disability health professionals to help with challenging cases and drive change across the health system.

Then people with intellectual disability will be heard, and lives will be saved.

Help make this happen:
